Statement by Senator Reed Smoot.

"In one year the American people must decide how they shall meet a national crisis."

Senator Reed Smoot, member of the Senate Finance Committee, made this statement today as a comment upon the national defense program.

"As now proposed," said Senator Smoot, "the proposed national defense program involves an expenditure of more than one billion dollars; the expenditures, however, to cover a period of five years. That expenditure must be financed."

"How shall it be done? That is a question voters must answer one year later. It is a grave responsibility. I thoroughly believe that there can be and will be but one course to pursue. That is to elect a Republican president and a Republican Congress."

The Republican party is the only one that in policy and performance has proven adequate to meet such a situation. Considered from every angle the Democratic party has demonstrated its inability and unfitness for the task.

"Remember that the balance of trade against us during the four months preceding the war, at a time when Democratic policies and laws were in effect, was $248,000,000. What a political blessing the war was to the Democratic party."

In two years the Democratic administration has produced such business conditions that, but for the purely accidental stimulus of a foreign war, we would now be in the throes of a panic. Eliminate the market created by temporary artificial European demands, and American industry would be prostrated.

"Past history has proven the only way the Democratic party, when in power, has been able to meet the extravagant appropriations made by them for the ordinary running expenses of the government was by the sale of bonds. A bond issue is inevitable whether a national defense program is undertaken or not."

In two years the Democratic administration has passed scores of worthless laws. The insertion of meaningless phrases in statutes, the constant violation of the simplest legislative rules, have brought about more costly and needless federal litigation than we have ever known before.

"In two years the Democratic administration has created an enormous deficit in the treasury, and has not advanced a single plan for meeting it. The proposed reenactment of the sugar duty and the 'war tax' law only retains our present revenues. Bond issues are nothing but loans that must be paid for in the future."

"The Democratic party has not a policy in its platform, a law to its credit, nor a plan to propose, that will meet the financial crisis inevitably imposed by the national defense program."

"A return of the Republican party to power seems to me not only a national necessity but a foregone conclusion."

Free-Trade Financiering

Secretary McAdoo's announcement of ways and means to increase the revenue reads as follows:

In reply to many inquiries I have received about the revenue measures that will be proposed in the next Congress, I have determined to recommend (1) that the emergency revenue act, which expires by limitation on December 31, 1915, be extended until peace is restored in Europe, and (2) that the existing duties on sugar shall be retained for several years, or until normal customs conditions are restored. These are distinctly revenue measures, and are necessary in view of the extraordinary conditions now prevailing throughout the world.

It is impossible to state at the moment what, if any additional revenue measures may be necessary, as the estimates of the various departments have not been received. It is clear, however, that the two sources of revenue I have just mentioned should be preserved, no matter what the department estimates may be. Of course, it rests with the Congress to say what shall be done. I am merely stating what my recommendations of these particulars will be.

It is to be noticed that the retention of sugar duties is a "distinctly revenue measure," which means that it is resorted to solely to put money in the Treasury and with no reference to Protection for the growers of sugar cane and sugar beets. Of course, there will be some incidental Protection, but no intentional Protection. But for the needs of the Treasury, the cane and beet growers could go to the devil—just as they would go if Free-Trade in sugar were to take effect next May, as provided in the Underwood Free-Trade law.

Also it is to be noticed that the War Emergency Tax, inflicted upon the country in the time of peace so far as the American people were concerned, it is to be extended indefinitely. But the war tax and the sugar duties combined have failed to keep the Treasury away from a deficit. Disbursements last year exceeded receipts by about $35,000,000. We are passing through an instructive era of Free-Trade financiering.

Lexington Secures Kentucky Mining Institute Meeting.

Lexington has secured the winter meeting of the Kentucky Mining Institute. This organization with a membership of 350 will convene Friday and Saturday, December 3rd and 4th. Prominent mine operators, mine managers, superintendents, and engineers from all parts of the State of Kentucky are expected to attend.

The two strongest contenders for this meeting have been Louisville and Lexington and it was only after a hard struggle that Lexington secured the meeting. This is the first time since May, 1914, that Lexington has had the privilege of entertaining this organization, Louisville having secured the December, 1914, meeting and Pineville the May, 1915, meeting.

The Kentucky Mining Institute has always been alive to the needs of the Mining Industry in the State and has much to do with the improvement in methods of production and the preparation of the products for the market. It has to a large extent been helpful in the development and utilization of the State's natural resources.

The Kentucky Mining Institute was among the first organizations to promote the welfare of those employed in the mining industry. Its first aid meets have been a feature of its spring meetings. Prizes amounting to over $500 were distributed at the first aid meet held last May in Pineville, this being the largest amount ever devoted for prizes at any first aid meeting in this country.

The program for this meeting is now in the process of formation and will be announced as soon as it is completed. The Phoenix Hotel of Lexington will be headquarters.

Mr. Ivan P. Tashof, Secretary of the Institute, has announced the following committees for the meeting:

Committee on papers: J. E. Butler, Stearns, Ky.
Committee on entertainment: PROF. C. J. NORWOOD, DWIN L. QUARLES, R. D. QUICKEL, MILTON SANCHEZ, IVAN P. TASHOF.

Distress in the Stomach.

There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padgan, Victor, N. Y., writes "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach, after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.

How To Prevent Croup.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I gave him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

This is a medicine intended especially for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation. It is meeting with much success and rapidly gaining in favor and popularity. Obtainable everywhere.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Cañon, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side."

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring myself, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
